COOPERATIVE LETTER OF INTENT – YONG ZHOU CITY

The Board of Directors of the Company announce that on 1 November 2006, Beijing WFC has entered into the Agreement whereby the Yong Zhou City Forestry Bureau will provide assistance and applicable policy incentives in forest land transfer to Beijing WFC of no less than 2,000,000 Chinese Mu, for the purpose of field plantation and the establishment of a processing base for timber and wood pulp materials; and Beijing WFC will provide the genetically modified tree specie Broussonetia payriferalvent and technical support for plantation of the tree specie in Hunan province, the PRC.

The Proposed Cooperation is subject to the Formal Agreement and the finalization of the terms and conditions thereof.

THE AGREEMENT

The Board of Directors of the Company is pleased to announce that on 1 November 2006, Beijing WFC, a 70% owned subsidiary of the Company, has entered into the Agreement with the Yong Zhou City Forestry Bureau for promoting the plantation in the Hunan Province the genetically modified tree specie Broussonetia payriferalvent, which is a Moraceae plant under the category of Deciduous Trees and its highly resistance characteristic allow trees to grow in environments unfavorable to other plants. The favorable attributes of the tree specie brings economic efficiency and better productivity for higher land utilization and lower labour costs. The trees also facilitate the growth of soil micro-organism that may serve to improve quality of infertile land on which plantation is carried out, as well as lowering the carbon dioxide level in the surrounding atmosphere.

In accordance with the Agreement, Beijing WFC will provide the genetically modified tree specie Broussonetia payriferalvent and technical support for plantation of the tree specie in the Yong Zhou City of the Hunan Province; the PRC, and the Yong Zhou City Forestry Bureau will provide assistance and applicable policy incentives to Beijing WFC in the procurement of forest land of no less than 2,000,000 Chinese Mu by area for the purpose of field plantation and the establishment of a processing base for timber and wood pulp materials. The forest land to be transferred which is being identified and has not been confirmed at this stage. However, it was specified in the Agreement that the forest land to be transferred to Beijing WFC may cover land within the Yong Zhou City area and portion of 1,000,000 Chinese Mu by area shall comprise of existing forest land held under PRC State ownership; while portion of 1,000,000 Chinese Mu by area shall comprise of existing forest land held under mass-ownership and individual ownership. In addition, Yong Zhou City Forestry Bureau will collaborate with Beijing WFC in the application to the PRC State and provincial forestry bureau for harvesting quota and replanting benchmark. Such pursuit was sought in the order that sufficiently adequate land resources will be made available to Beijing WFC through the harvesting of the existing flocks grown on the forest land to be procured by Beijing WFC.

Shareholders should note that the Proposed Cooperation is subject to the Formal Agreement and the finalization of the terms and conditions thereof. As the Proposed Cooperation is subject to the Formal Agreement, Shareholders and investors are advised to exercise caution when dealing in the Shares.
